Autumn Term

Science Week

We have been very busy doing lots of experiments in the classes.

Sapling Class have been floating and sinking as well as using ramps.

Elm Class have been colour mixing, experimenting with oil and water as well as milk and food colouring.

Willow Class have been using colour paddles, floating and sinking, experimenting with lemonade and rasins to make them dance in the glass as well as rainbow milk.

Oak Class have been money laundering! They have experimented with vinegar using it to clean the tzada money. They have used pippets to transfer liquid, made exploding lemons, colour mixing as well as experimenting with milk and food colouring

All the classes had the opportunity of observing misquito larvea and discussing them
